EASTON IS FINED $500 AND GIVEN WORKHOUSE SENTENCE

Will Have to Work for State for Three Years at Small Wage

WIFE WEEPS WHEN PENALTY IS IMPOSED

Judge Ashman Hands Stiff Fine to The Man Who Pleaded Guilty to Contributing to the Delinquency of 14-Year-Old Losha Fry — Will Begin Work at Canton Monday---Family of Children to be Provided For.

With one of his six children sitting on his knee and another standing at his side, Corelius V. Easton was fined $500 and sentenced to one year in the Canton workhouse Saturday morning by Probate Judge Ashman for contributing to the delinquency of 14-year-old Losha Fry.

After sentence had been pronounced Easton asked the judge to suspend the sentence saying that he had washed his hands clean of the affair and that if he was allowed to go free he would guarantee the court that he would never get into similar trouble. But Judge Ashman was immovable and let the sentence stand.

The sentence passed was the limit of the law in one particular and half the limit in the other. The maximum penalty provided for this offense by the juvenile act is $1,000 fine and a sentence of 1 year in the work-house

Easton will have to work out his $500 fine at the rate of 60 cents a day which together with his sentence of one year will keep him at work for over three years.

When brought into court Easton looked pale and haggard but showed no nervousness. When his children went into the room one of them was taken by Easton and placed on his knee. He kissed her twice then turning to another of his daughters standing at his side he placed his arm around her and drew her close to his side The latter daughter was the only one of the children who gave evidence of any grief during the passing of the sentence When the court pronounced his sentence the child sobbed and great tears rolled down her cheeks.

With the two-months-old baby at her breast Easton's wife sat directly at his side. Until sentence was passed she showed no emotion then she wept quietly with her handkerchief to her face, while Easton looking on showed signs of nervousness.

Judge Ashman said when pasing sentence that he appreciated as well as anyone the condition of Easton's family but he explained that they would be cared for. He said that for the two elder boys positions have been secured at the Glass factory. He severely reprimanded Easton He said that although Easton was charged with contributing to the delinquency of the child and that there was no proof that he had had any illicit relations with her, that in his (the court's) mind 'there was no doubt but what Easton was also guilty of that. To this Easton shook his head vigorously in protest. Judge Ashman called attention to the wife with the two-months-old baby in her arms and as he did so Easton hung his head as in shame.

Judge Ashman said that if the child whom Easton had wronged had been his own daughter and had been treated by another man as he had treated that girl no punishment would be severe enough for the man. "And," said the judge, "I wouldn't consider you much of a man if you didn't act in that way"

Easton will be taken to the workhouse at Canton Tuesday morning to begin his sentence.

LOCAL MEN IN CHARGE AT FAIR

Declare State Show Best Even Held in Columbus

Coshocton men had a good deal to do with the success of the state fair this year. John Brister, who was assistant superintendent in the horse department, arrived home Friday evening and just as enthused over the fair as John can get—and that is going some.

Capt. Lybarger, member of the board, was in charge of the horse department, speed and show. Capt. Archie Thomson was one of the judges in both speed tests and show classes. Harry Lybarger was assistant superintendent in the sheep and swine departments, and Jay Lawrence who was sent on the free trip for farm boys, was detailed as a page at the horse department offices, so he was among home-folks all the time and had pleasant work.

"One of the Columbus papers knocked the fair because an opposition paper got out the special fair edition" said Mr. Brister. "Everything went smoothly. Some of the concessionaires kicked because they were charged admission and passes were refused them, but they had no kick coming. The board told them beforehand they were not to get passes and made special arrangement in the price for space awarded them so as to take care of the difference and to have things on a cash basis. As to the O. N. G guards who acted as special police, they were not a howling success and will probably not be used again; but the fair lost money last year and had to make economical expedients. One of the guards tried to keep Capt Lybarger out of his own department and that guard came mighty near getting the worst thrashing he ever got, when he suddenly changed his mind. The fair was a grand success though and every citizen of Ohio owes it to himself to attend the state fair every year."

Capt. Lybarger returned home at noon Saturday and is elated over the splendid success of the fair. The horse department, of which he had charge, had better results than it has had for years and the entire exhibition gave the utmost satisfaction.

Pros. Klein Gets Attorney General's Opinion in Local Liquor Cases Whie in Columbus Friday--Long Defered Settlement Now in View --- Judge Nicholas Complimented.

Pros. Atty. George D. Klein while in Columbus Friday afternoon secured a copy of the opinion rendered by Atty. Gen. Hogan and sent to the state auditor in connection with the Coshocton liquor cases. The opinion says that after the Aiken liquor tax has been paid in full and the person afterward discontinues business the auditor being satisfied that the person has discontinued business will refund a proportional amount of the sum paid not to be lower than $200. The full report which is self explanatory is given here in full. The local cases will now be settled up for good and all.

Prosecutor Klein said Saturday morning that because the opinion of Hogan contradicts the opinion of Judge Nicholas the liquor men will have to pay in all the amounts and then bring mandamus proceedings. This is the only way of settling, says the prosecutor unless Auditor Mowrey wants to disregard the decision of Judge Nicholas and go by Hogan's opinion, which is hardly possible.

The opinion:

Columbus, O., Aug. 9, 1911.

Hon. E. M. Fullington,
Auditor of State,
Columbus, Ohio
Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt of your favor of Aug. 7 wherein you state:

"I hereby request your written opinion as to the provision of Section 6071, General Code, so far as the same relates to the duties of county auditors in the matter of refunding liquor tax assessments. Does this apply to assessments in what is known as "dry" as well as "wet" counties?"

Section 6071 of the General Code provides:

"When a person, company or corporation or co-partnership, engaged in such business, has been assessed and has paid the full amount of such assessment and afterward discontinues such business, the county auditor, upon being satisfied thereof, shall issue to such person, corporation or co partnership a refunding order for a proportionate amount of such assessment so paid, but the amount of such assessment so returned shall not be less than two hundred dollars unless such discontinuance of business has been caused by an election under a local option law or a lawful finding of a mayor or judge on a petition filed in a residence district as provided in this chapter, in which case the proportionate amount of such tax shall be refunded in full."

This section is one of the sections relating to the taxation upon the business of the liquor traffic in this state which law is included between sections 6071 and 6096 of the General Code, inclusive, and is familiarly known as the "Aiken Tax."

The supreme court of Ohio in the recent cases familiarly known as the Newark liquor tax cases, has declared that the Aiken Law Tax operates uniformly throughout the state, that is, in what is known as "dry" as well as in "wet" territory, and that in so far as the assessments under such law are made the law does not take cognizance of whether the party against whom the assessment is levied is within prohibited territory or not. Such being the ruling of the supreme court it seems to me that in so far as the question of taxation of liquor business is concerned, the question of the legality or illegality of such business is not to be considered.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that the entire Aiken law tax and all the provisions thereof operate within "dry" territory as well as "wet" territory, and that it is no concern of the state in assessing such business whether it is assessed in "wet" or "dry" territory.

Such being my view, I am of the opinion that section 6074 applies to assessments in "dry" counties as well as in "wet." To hold otherwise, would be to hold that although the Aiken Law Tax operates in each and every part of the state, and, consequently, the state does not take into consideration whether or not the business of trafficking in liquor is prohibited, yet that certain sections of such statutes do not so operate. As far as the Aiken law tax is concerned I can see no

Sheriff Fights way Through every Court in State of Oklahoma to get His Prisoner

J. A. ROWE NOW HELD IN THE COUNTY JAIL

Sheriff McDonald and Man, Wanted Here on Indictment For Non-Support Arrive Home Saturday Morning After Hard Legal Fight in Far Western State—Bond Will Be Furnished Late Today and Man Released Until September Court Term.

After having gone through every court in Oklahoma except one fighting for the possession of his man, Sheriff McDonald arrived home Saturday morning on Pensylvania train No. 8 with his prisoner, John A. Rowe, a former resident of New Bedford, wanted in Coshocton on a charge of failing to support his wife and minor child, on which charge he was indicted by the grand jury in the fall of 1910. He will be released on bond.

Sheriff McDonald fought an uphill fight while gone. When he went to Omaha the chief of police of that city was held up by Rowe's attorneys by habeaus corpus. This case went into the mayor's court and Rowe lost. A warrant was issued directed to any constable or sheriff in the state of Oklahoma for the arrest of Rowe. When the sheriff arrested Rowe the latter's attorneys again got busy with habeus corpus which case went to the district court. Rowe again lost but the case was reheard before the governor and an attempt was made to revoke the warrant but again they failed. The judge then turned the man over to Sheriff McDonald and Rowe's attorneys, determined to win if possible in their strong fight, again began habeus corpus proceedings which took the case to the superior court. They lost and the sheriff took charge of Rowe and started home.

He left Oklahoma at 4:10 o'clock Thursday evening and after traveling steadily arrived in Coshocton Saturday morning at 8:06.

Rowe will be released on bond late this afternoon to appear at the September term of court when his case will be brought up for hearing, in common pleas court.

Rowe was forced to marry Miss Mary Welling about 14 or 15 years ago at New Bedford. A child was born soon after the marriage. Rowe skipped out immediately following the ceremony or soon after. After being gone for twelve years he returned to Coshocton. His wife began proceedings against him then for non-support of their minor child. Negotiations were gone into and a legal separation drawn up by which Rowe was to pay the woman $200. The woman signed the contract but before Rowe signed he again skipped out. In the fall of 1910 Rowe was indicted by the grand jury here and since that time local authorities have been exhausting every means in an attempt to find him. He was located through some correspondence by Prosecutor Klein and arrested in Oklahoma.

Rowe's attorneys made one of the strongest fights for the prisoner any Coshocton county officer has ever experienced and Sheriff McDonald is today receiving the congratulations of his friends over his success in landing the man.

Late this afternoon J. A. Rowe gave bond in the sum of $600 for his appearance at the September term of court to answer to the non support charge. He was released.

distinction in the matter of allowing refunders between the failure of a party engaged in the liquor business in the territory in which it is not prohibited to make due returns under the law, and the failure to make returns by a party who in carrying on such business in territory wherein the traffic is prohibited

Replying further to your inquiry as to the duties of the county auditor in the matter of refunding liquor tax assessment, I invite your attention again to Section 6071 quoted in the first part of this opinion, and its requirements in brief are:

"When a person * * * engaged in such business has been assessed and has paid the full amount of such assessment, and afterwards discontinues such business, the county auditor upon being satisfied thereof shall issue * * * a refunding order * * for a proportionate amount of such assessments so paid, but the amount of such assessment so retained shall not be less than two hundred dollars * * * "

This is all of said section that need be considered in answering your inquiry. From these provisions it is plain that before a refunding order can be issued in any case the full amount of the assessments must be paid into the treasury, and the auditor, nor anyone else could make a refunder or issue a refunding order until the entire assessment had been paid. Where the assessment, which in "dry" territory under section 6089 must carry with it a penalty of twenty per cent. has been paid into the treasury by the person assessed, and not until then, the auditor may consider an application for a refunding order; it will be observed, under the provisions of section 6074 the matter as to whether or not a refunding order shall be issued is left entirely to the discretion of the auditor. The person applying for such refunding order must satisfy the auditor that he has discontinued such business, and it seems to me that under this section the auditor in satisfying himself whether the applicant has actually discontinued such business may take into consideration such facts as in his judgment may enlighten him on this question. To consider the character of the applicant, his previous reputation, whether or not he has before violated the liquor laws, the circumstances surrounding the premises which he occupies and upon which said business had been carried on, uness al the paraphernalia usually found about a saloon or about a place where intoxicating liquors are sold lawfully or unlawfully, is removed and disposed of or destroyed, it might well be doubted if the applicant were making the application in good faith.

It seems to me, further, that there are so many facts and circumstances which an auditor in satisfying himself upon this question might take into consideration that it would be impossible to enumerate or call attention to all of them, and that, therefore, as the decision of the matter is within the discretion of the auditor, the means by which he may reach his decision must necessarily be held to be within his discretion also, and it may well be said that in satisfying himself upon such question he may act as judges frequently do when called upon to pass sentence on a person convicted of crime. That is, make such outside investigation personally or otherwise as may tend to throw light upon the matter under consideration.

I wish further to call attention to the fact that section 6090 of the General Code provides that ten per cent. of the penalty imposed by section 6090 upon persons certified to the auditor of state as trafficking in intoxicating liquors by the Dairy and Food Commissioner under section 6087 et seq. shall be set apart and paid into the state treasury, and that the remainder shall be distributed as provided in section 6093.

It will be kept in mind that the Aiken law and the Rose law are not the same The one recognizes the right to sell liquor in any part of the state upon paying tax upon the liquor business; the other recognizes the right of the peope to vote the liquor business out of existence in a given county. The former, under the decision of the supreme court, provides for the enforcement of the collection of taxes without reference as to whether the territory is wet or dry; it provides that upon the business of trafficking in spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquor, there shall be assessed yearly and paid into the county treasury as provided in section subsequent to section 6071 by each person corporation or co-partnership engaged therein and in each place where such business is carried on by such person, corporation or co-partnership the sum of $1000.00.

Section 6071 provides that

"When a person, company, corporation or co-partnership, engaged in such business, has been assessed and has paid the full amount of such assessment and afterward discontinues such business, the county auditor, upon being satisfied thereof, shall issue to such person, company, corporation or co-partnership a refunding order for a proportionate amount of such assessment so paid."

I see no reason for reading into the statutes the idea of voluntary payment. The court, in my judgment has nothing whatever to do with the whole controversy except inso far as its aid is necessary to enforce the collection of the assessment.

I have no hesitancy in saying that the action of Judge Nicholas in refusing a restraining order upon the treasurer of Coshocton county is correct It is not for the court to restrain the treasurer from collecting such taxes, and that distinguished jurist is undoubtedly right upon the question. On the other hand, the court has nothing to do with the discretion of the county auditor in allowing a refunder.

Suppose a man sold one drink of whiskey, and as a consequence was compelled to pay the Aiken Dow tax, that within a month after such payment he was killed, that all of this occurred within three months, could it be claimed for a moment that the state of Ohio is not to refund to his estate for the nine months that he is out of business? I cannot conceive of an interpretation that would forbid this refunder The object of the refunder is perfectly apparent The state of Ohio does not desire to collect taxes on a traffic not in existence The penalties provided are ample to meet all of the trouble arising from having to go to court to enforce collection To my mind the letter of the law, the spirit of the law and common honesty suggest the giving to the county auditor discretion to make a refunder On the other hand, the auditor should be quite sure that no refunder should be issued to one except a person who has beyond doubt discontinued business

The latter is sufficient protection to the public the former is common honesty to be practiced by the State

Very truly yours,
Timothy S. Hogan,
Attorney General

TRAIN SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Wooster Special to Leave Local Station at 5.30 Wednesday

Interest throughout the county is at fever heat in anticipation of the trip to the Ohio experiment station at Wooster Wednesday, Sept. 6 and it is said that several hundred Coshocton county farmers are planning to take the trip. The train will leave Coshocton at 6:30 and leave Wooster at 6 pm going by way of Loudonville

The trip is being made for the purpose of studying the scientific ways of farming; how to grow more corn, more wheat and better fruit.

The following is the schedule of the special train:

Leave Coshocton, 6:30 a. m.
Leave Warsaw Jct. 6:50 am.
Leave Mohawk, 6:57 am.
Leave Pomerene 7:03 am.
Leave Walhonding Jct. 7:09 am.
Leave Cavallo 7:20 am.
Leave Brink Haven 7:30 am.
Leave Edlam 7:40 am.
Arrive Wooster 9:0 am.

This is surely the one best chance for the farmers of our county to visit the Experiment Station, and see and also find out what they are doing with our money. The farmers of our county do not appreciate what is being done for their benefit at Wooster, and we ought to get acquainted with the work that is being carried on there Maybe they could give us some valuable suggestions which if put to test on our own farms would result in more wheat, more corn, more fruit and better farming and also more dollars in our pockets.

This is not a grange excursion entirely, everyone who is interested in better agriculture can and ought to go Provision will be made so you can check your baskets at the different stations without cost to you. Don't worry about weather. There is ample room at the station for shelter and a large hall in which to have lectures which will be given if the weather is not suitable to go over the ground

A SCENE FROM "THE GIRL AND THE TRAMP"

To be seen at the Sixth-St. theatre Wednesday, Sept. 6

"The Girl and The Tramp"

Comedy will reign supreme at the Sixth st theatre one night only, Wednesday Sept 6, when "The Girl and The Tramp" a merry comedy drama will be played

The Girl and The Tramp is a new play which has been written by Charles Inskeep to fill out the gap left by the passing of the common melodrama

Fun the people always want. It is to laugh' said Lewis Mann, and theatrical men know that a play that really will produce the laughs always are profitable

In this merry tangle of fun and sentiment is told the story of a man whose home was ruined many years before the play starts by a villain and who has been forced into the "submerged tenth" as a common tram. Well educated yet saddended and reduced to level of a vagabond he roams the country until the beginning of the play he is engaged by the same man who ruined his home, whose indentity is not known to him, to work out another piece of villany.

As soon as Happy Jack, the tramp, learns what is expected of him he turned to help and not injure the villain's victims With Flo, a bowery girl, he works the salvation of the family and finds in Flo his long lost daughter.

"The Nest Egg."

The leading magizines highly praised Miss Anne Caldwell's latest comedy, "The Nest Egg" which will be an early attraction at the Sixth-st. theatre.

Munsey's recently said: "The Nest Egg" tells a concrete story with a mixture of comedy and pathos that sends it across the footlights with a surer aim than any emotional play can hope to have in these matter-of-fact times. It is a capital entertainment and will probably live for several years.

Briefly, an old maid dressmaker writes a mesage on an egg that she sends to market, receives a reply after three years, and excitedly makes all preparations for a wedding, only to discover that she is expected to serve as star witness in a lawsuit brought by a pure food enthusiast who has been made ill by eating the egg kept so long in cold storage But she eventually marries him and her aim is accomplished

OXFORD, CONN Sept 2 A new record for killing snakes is claimed by Clifford R Hawley, an Oxford farmer, who last night killed [illegible] feet of black snakes in seven minutes, assisted only by his woodchuck dog, Spot The snakes' nest was found by the dog and Hawley went to her assistance with a hoe Between them they killed 45, one of them five feet nine inches long.

DEVELOP ALASKA

Schurmann Says Open it to Capital, Under Government Control.

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 2.—President J. G. Schurmann of Cornell university said in an interview that the government is throttling the development of Alaska and keeping its vast resources near intact by means of land laws which are not applicable to that territory. He said the government is pursuing an ultra-conservative policy and keeping capital out, thus allowing the coal fields to remain untouched, while the people of Alaska have to pay enormous prices for coal, bringing it from British Columbia. He also stated that the resources of the far north possession are dealed to the Pacific coast, and that rightful property of the constituency of the United States is rendered inaccessible. To relieve this condition Professor Schurmann advocated the opening of the coal fields to capital. At the same time he said the development should be under government control.

A great many people took advantage of the excursion to Cleveland this morning. Forty tickets were sold at the Wheeling passenger station to Cleveland alone.

REFUSE DEMAND OF THE SHOPMEN

Railway Officials Firmly Pass up Recognition of Federation

San Francisco, Sept. 2. — The Southern Pacific Railroad company, through Julius Kruttschnitt vice president and director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines, rejected a demand for recognition of the federation of shop employes, comprising five shop craft unions and 25,000 men.

After the conference with the leaders of the shopmen's unions, Kruttschnitt issued a brief statement in which he says: "In the conference the question of the benefits to accrue to both the company and the men from a federation was fully presented by the international officers, and the officers of the railroad company explained at length the embarrassment that the company would experience in performing its public functions if hampered by a committee vested with sufficient power to control or partially control its operations."

With Kruttschnitt at the conference were E. E. Calvin, vice president and general manager of the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific; W. R. Scott, assistant general manager; H. J. Small, general superintendent of motive power; Fred G Ahearn, head of bureau of economics, and R. J. Clancy, assistant to the general manager. For the railroad men there were four presidents of shopmen's unions, J. A. Franklin of the boilermakers, James W. Kline of the blacksmiths, J. D. Buckalaw of the machinists and M. F. Ryan of the car workers, with J. D. Crane of San Francisco sheet metal workers, who represents that trade in the absence of M. O'Sullivan, president, who was unable to come west.

The five men have been given absolute authority to decide as to whether the vote of workmen to strike for recognition and better terms shall be put into effect or whether the matter can be compromised. After the close of the conference unions called in several local leaders for general discussion of a strike.

RIOTS CONTINUE IN FRANCE

Mobs Sweep Thru Towns Smashing Windows of Food Shops.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The disorders and demonstrations arising out of the high prices of foodstuffs continue in various parts of France. The women of Brittany and Burgundy have joined in the work of their sisters in other parts of the republic. There was a riot of considerable proportions at St. Quentin, in the department of Aisne. A mob swept through the town, smashing the windows of the food shops. Troops were called out and they charged on the crowd. During the fighting 20 soldiers and 100 manifestants were more or less seriously injured. The demonstrants appointed a committee of 10, which drew a maximum schedule of prices they are willing to pay for foodstuffs.

Knocked Out by a Woman

Last Monday Mrs. John Hogan, an Ohio woman, did her washing in two hours—a job that had always taken the whole morning. But this time she took the advice of several friends and used Hewitt's Easy Task Soap, which does the hard part of the work and does it in half the time required by the old-fashioned boiling and rubbing methods. Five cents a cake.

A BIGAMIST, BUT HE IS RELEASED

Because his second wife, living in Columbus, refused to press a charge of bigamy against him, and as his first wife, living in Zanesville, is visiting in Pennsylvania and has never heard of his arrest, William S Davis, formerly of this city, taken in charge by Columbus officials when they found him living with another wife when he was served with divorce papers filed by the first, was released from custody yesterday.

At the time he was found, Davis is said to have confessed to a deputy sheriff that he was a bigamist, and the records in the Franklin county probate court show that he was married last February, although he has never been divorced from his Zanesville wife.

The Columbus officials wanted J. M. McHenry, attorney for the Zanesville Mrs Davis, to come to Columbus and file a charge against Davis, and also asked that the wife here do the same thing. When this was impossible, the officials there released him, instead of filing the affidavit themselves. More developments may come when Mrs. Davis returns from Pennsylvania and hears the story.—Zanesville Times Recorder.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, In Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR, ITCHING SCALP QUICKLY STOPPED

A Harmless, Old-Fashioned Remedy, Brings Back the Color to Gray Hair.

How many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old-time, tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy nothing equals our grandmothers' "sage tea." Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer.

Nowadays, when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

Druggists are authorized to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

DRESDEN'S DILEMMA.

The neighboring town of Dresden is having a most unusual discussion There are some people in the town who object to having the village's Main street paved. That sounds odd in the twentieth century, and in Ohio, and so close to Coshotcon county, but the fact remains nevertheless Dresden ought to take a trip to Coshocton where miles and miles of beautifully shaded avenues are paved, not only with brick but with asphalt. And she ought to take some trips over Coshocton county roads leading out of the county seat and find miles of brick pavement with corn fields on either side. Just how any one figures that paving a street is a detriment to a town is indeed hard to figure. Property on paved streets in Coshocton for ten years has brought better prices than property just as well situated on unpaved streets. No matter what theories there may be against it, facts show that paved streets help a town or a community. The time is coming, and perhaps within the next generation or two, when there will be paved brick roads connecting most of the county seats in the state of Ohio; and the expense of maintenance will be much less than is at present spent on trying to fix up stone and gravel pikes.

A SACRIFICE

We are a bloodthirsty people in our mad desire for sensation. Yesterday an aviator out in Kansas met his death because the crowd gathered at a county fair jeered him because he hesitated about making an ascent. He explained that his machine was out of order and that there was danger in a flight. They retorted by calling him faker and jeering at him So he went up, and the machine went wrong, toppled over, and fell, crushing him beneath the weight of its engine. Thus do we drive men to their doom that we may experience a new sensation. There happens and transpires, exactly what the public sanctions; that which it frowns on, dies. And the air will continue to claim its victims just so long as the public insists on placing their demands above an expert's experience.

HATS OFF TO GATES

No handsomer, no more worthy epitaph could be given any man than has been accorded John W. Gates, the American multi-millionaire who recently died in Paris. As Life puts it, "he was a permanent, affectionate and consistent married man," and in these days of millionaire rakes, setting aside the wives of their early struggles and wedding women of questionable virtue. Gates' record stands out as an emblazonment of American ideals that may well be followed by others of his class. In his love for money, he never forgot his love of home and love for wife, but was a most devoted lover till the very end. Money need not bring all the unhappiness that it so often does bring, it need not be wrecker of homes. It should be and is, the greatest asset for material good and exemplification of the great brotherhood, that can be found. Money riotously used is sinfully misspent when one considers how much suffering the same dollars could alleviate.

SETS THE TIME

According to Attorney General Hogan, petitions for a local option election may not be signed until after the expiration of the full three year period since holding the first election. Scioto county wets had a thousand in excess of the required number but will do their work over again as their date of expiration is not until Sept. 30. It is interesting to note that the wet campaign there is being led by a man who was one of the leaders on the dry side in the former campaign. Coshocton county will probably await some action of the constitutional convention, as will most of the other counties of the state that were voted dry.

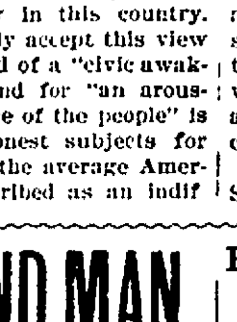
The Short Ballot— A Progressive Ideal

A Series of Talks on the New Direction of Political Reform Which Now Proposes to Simplify and Popularize Politics.

By RICHARD S. CHILDS

I.—Are the People Really to Blame?

EVERYBODY seems dissatisfied with the way our cities and states are governed. Scandals regarding public officials find ready credence. In every legislature there are stories of bills devised for corrupt ends, and in every city the aldermen are more or less under suspicion. Good government seems actually abnormal in the United States, and misgovernment seems normal. On the other hand, in other democratic countries and in those cities of the United States which are governed under the new "commission plan" of government good government seems to be a matter of course. The people in those places are proud of their political conditions and consider that their affairs are much better handled than ours. There has never been a serious allegation of corruption made against a member of the London county council, for example. Public office in such communities is prized as a great honor, and men sacrifice their private careers for the sake of government service.



The average citizen of Glasgow, which claims to be the best governed city in the world, serenely says that the people of his city have moral caliber superior to that of Americans and would never tolerate the things which are heard of daily in this country. Americans commonly accept this view and talk of the need of a "civic awakening." The demand for "an arousing of the conscience of the people" is one of the commonest subjects for editorials in which the average American citizen is described as an indifferent, conscienceless, easy going person, who serenely ignores his duties to the state.

If all this is just to the American people it is a deplorable state of affairs indeed.

In the coming articles in this column, however, I will endeavor to demonstrate that American citizens are not indifferent to their civic duties; that they are just as loyal to their political interests as the citizens of any other land; are just as honest and have just as high ideals as the burgesses of Glasgow.

Modern political scientists lay the blame on our badly designed instruments of governments, not on the people. They say that if the people of Glasgow were transported to Philadelphia to live under Philadelphia political institutions they would be in as sorry a mess as the people of Philadelphia are. They believe, conversely, that if the people of Philadelphia were transported to live in Glasgow they would do just as well with the Glasgow institutions of government as the Scotch do, if not better. They cannot discern that the Scotch immigrant is any better citizen than the rest of us. As they see the newly naturalized Scotchman here in our midst, going about his work of citizenship, they cannot see that he can give any points on civic virtue to the rest of us.

Human nature is much the same the world over. It is our system of government which is different, not the morals of our people.

There is no need for a "civic awakening" in this country. What we do need is a form of government in which all the elective officials will be acutely sensitive to the public wish. It is this vital principle of sensitiveness which we must copy in one form or another from the successful democracies.

RICHMOND MAN MAY BE CALLED

Said to Have Mysterious Knowledge of the Beattie Case

Chesterfield C. H., Va., Sept. 2.—The defense in the Beattie murder trial have found a man who was automobiling on the Midlothian turnpike on the night of the murder in company of a woman. This man is said to have been seen cranking his machine at a spot not far from the pool of blood that afterwards marked the location of the slaying of Mrs. Beattie. Several young men who happened to be on a lark on the night of July 18 and who returned along the turnpike just about the hour when the homicide took place, have testified for the prosecution that in the vicinity afterwards established as that where the murder occurred, they saw a machine closely resembling Henry Beattie's; that a woman was standing on the left-hand running board when they passed and that a man was by the hood of the auto tinkering with the engine.

The name of the new witness is Joseph Casselberg of Richmond.

The prosecution has shown by inference that the young Richmond joy riders saw Henry Beattie standing by the hood of his machine while his wife was on the running board. Through the newly discovered witness the defense will attempt to prove that it was not Beattie and his wife that the automobiling party saw, but this witness and the woman who was his companion.

It also became known that should this witness be forced through subpena to take the stand for the defense, some high explosives for Beattie's case might be touched off by commonwealth's cross examination In the first place the witness has reasons for not wanting to be brought into the case; only the most assiduous efforts by Beattie's lawyers have uncovered his name and knowledge of the facts he is said to possess. A far more serious reason why this unknown should have to be handled with gloves by the defense is said to be that should he be asked by commonwealth attorneys he would testify that, aside from being mistaken for Beattie on the night of the murder, he had passed Beattie in his automobile and had recognized Beattie, and that he had seen a woman and another man in the car besides Beattie himself. No hint of the second man in the machine with Beattie and his wife on the night that Mrs Beattie was murdered, has been whispered since investigations began. Beattie has declared that he rode alone with his wife and that she was shot by a pedestrian from the roadside.

Young Mothers
No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

Powers-Moore Wedding Solemized At High Noon.

Just at the hour of high noon Saturday, the words were pronounced which united for life Miss Etta Powers, and Arthus Smith Moore, two of Coshocton's most prominent young people. Only the families and most intimate friends were present and the wedding was rich in its simplicity. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the home of the bride's parents, Mr .and Mrs. William Powers, on Chestnut street. The room was a mass of dainty greenery, and in it the guests gathered to await the coming of the bridal party. "O Promise Me," that exquisite classic of DeKoven's. was beautifully sung by Miss Nell Dokkenwaddue, the accompaniment being played by Miss Irene Rodgers. As the last strains of the song died away Miss Rodgers played the majestic wedding march by Mendelssohn, and to it entered the Rev. Jay C. Goodrich, pastor of Grace M. E. church, immediately followed by the bride and groom. The bride, who is a dainty girl, was exquisitely gowned in a white marquissette, with real Irish point lace, and carried a magnificent shower bouquet of bride's roses and lillies of the valley. The impressive ring ceremony was used. After congratulations the company was seated to a sumptuous wedding dinner of three courses. Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on the afternoon Wheeling for Cleveland and will be gone ten days on a honeymoon journey. Their destination has been kept a secret from their friends. Many exquisit gifts were presented the bride. The guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. C. B. Smith of Centerburg, R C. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vird Davis of Charlestown, W. Va. WOULD BEFOG ISSUE OF RECIPROCITY

Idea of Canadian Navy Denounced by One of the Speakers.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 2. — Joan Provost, Nationalist member of the legislature, at a Conservative meeting at St. Jerome, attacked the government's naval policy. It was the first attack on the whole idea of a Canadian navy at a Conservative meeting in the present campaign and is causing much embarrassment to the ultra-imperialist followers of Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader.

Referring to the nucleus of the Canadian navy, the training cruisers Niobe and Rainbow, the speaker said: "We must abolish these training ships. They are schools, not like ordinary schools to impart knowledge, but where our children will serve later as food for cannon and as targets for the bullets of Germany, Japan and China. We will never be ready to say to the English, 'Take our families for these purposes.'"

The efforts of the opposition and its Nationalist allies to befog the reciprocity issue are only partially successful, as farmers are holding their produce for higher prices and anticipate the passage of the reciprocity bill in the event of the return to power of the Laurier government.

National Lecturer Speaks in Many States.

National Lecturer Oliver Wilson of Peoria, Ill., has made an extended speaking tour during the last several weeks. He has been in a number of states, both in the east and in the west and has done great work as a lecturer at field days, picnics, etc. During his trip through Kansas it rained most of the time yet the meetings were transferred from the open air to halls and immense crowds turned out, some of them driving 20 miles through the rain. At Burlington, Kas., a violent rainstorm came up during the field day exercises; about 500 women and children filled the grandstand and about the same number sought carriages, automobiles umbrellas and every conceivable shelter near by and the national lecturer, perched in an open buggy and sheltered by an umbrella in the hands of a loyal brother, held the attention of the large crowd for an hour; which shows that Brother Wilson is "some speaker" and that it takes more than rain to drown the enthusiasm of Kansas grangers

Chicago, New York, Pittsburg—even money and take your choice. That's about the way betting is running on the National league race, with the three teams mentioned about equal favorites, according to geographical location, and the Philadelphias doing the dusky equine stunt some distance in the rear. St Louis now is counted entirely out of the fight, as the Cards haven't been going so consistently of late And while the dopesters are sizing up the prospective winners in the National league, they are not overlooking the American league contention, either, for from that organization will come the enemy to fight the winnig National league team for the world's championship—and the concensus of opinion seems to be that whether the Athletics or the Tigers win in Ban Johnson's circuit, the National league team bucking them will have to surrender. This is particularly true of the Athletics, who are a younger and more energetic set than anything the National league can muster, and who should be even more classy this year than they were in the world's series last fall. The National league team that contends for the world's championship this year, therefore, is sure to be the long shot in the betting

There seems no longer any reason to doubt that the Reds management made a wise move when it invested in Marsans, the Cuban outfielder This youngster, while not playing regularly, has managed to deliver the best brands of baseball goods on many occasions. His hitting has been hard and consistent, he has fielded splendidly, whether in left, center or right field, or on first base, while his sprinting and good judgment on the base paths have been remarkable. Of course, there is no prospect of Marsans displacing Bescher, Bates or Mitchell in the regular lineup; but the team will not be weakened if one of these is placed hors du combat at any time and the Cuban sent into the fray for something like regular work

When the Reds return home in about a week there will be a strong flavor of minor leagues out in the local orchard, for President Herrmann has determined to give all the youngsters whom he can assemble a trial in their respective positions this fall. There will be, among others, Catcher Murphy and Catcher Murphy—two such having been secured—Pitchers Compton, Benton, Boyd, Shinners and one or two others; Infielders Duffy, Phelan and so on—and not an outfielder other than those now with the team. At this time of year the fans want to see as many youngsters as possible, provided the home team is out of the running, and President Herrmann is determined to meet this demand.

Cincinnati is priming herself for a season of sport such as she has not enjoyed at any time in the past, and which is set for the week of Sept. 4, when the completion of the Fern Bank Dam will be celebrated with six days of festivity. The sporting events included in the program are a series of motor boat and rowing races on Friday afternoon, Sept. 8, and four automobile road races at distances from 125 to 250 miles over an eight-mile course on Saturday, Sept. 9, with aviation exhibitions as an adjunct to the auto races. The speediest boats in the middle west, including John Ryan's Reliance III, which recently made 27 miles an hour at Detroit, are entered in the ragatta, while all the leading drivers of the country will take part in the auto races Special preparations are being made to entertain large crowds at both events.

Looks as if we would hear nothing more in a pugilistic way from "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien. It was thought for some time that the ring had seen the last of him, so his bobbing up in a match with Sam Langford, the Boston "Tar Baby," last week, created some surprise. The fact that Langford made a chopping block of the former, however, created no surprise, and the perfect manner in which the Quaker City pug was trimmed by the colored man from Boston makes it certain that O'Brien will not again venture into the ring. Too bad Langford, who is extremely handy with his mitts, isn't quite heavy enough to take on Jack Johnson

American athletes are beginning to perk up for the Olympic games to be held in Sweden next year. Special efforts will be made at these contests to bring home some of the special events that heretofore have been captured by Europeans, such as the various gymnastic contests, in which the Swedes, Germans and Bohemians excel, and the cycle events, which also were rather easy for the nations mentioned. Americans feel certain that they can continue to show their superiority in the straight athletic events, and hope to add a sufficient number of wins in events in which they have heretofore been somewhat deficient to bring greater fame to Uncle Sam than ever before.

LONE BINGLE OFF MARQUARD

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—In the second game of the double-header between the Philadelphia Nationals and the New York Giants, Marquard pitched the greatest article of ball seen here this season and came near getting a no-hit mark. The only hit made off him was a single by Luderus in the fifth inning. The latter was the only home player to reach first base, as Marquard did not give a pass and was accorded perfect support except for the muff of a foul fly by Myers. Marquard struck out 10 batsmen and caused 14 others to go out on fly balls.

DROPPED GIRL FROM BOAT

Life Imprisonment the Sentence Imposed on the Lover

Holland, Mich., Sept. 2.—Walter Hopper, the man who followed his sweetheart, Grace Lyons of Grand Rapids, onto a Chicago-Holland boat last week and when in midlake tossed her overboard, her body being chopped to pieces in the wheel, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Marquette by Judge Padgham. Hopper took his sentence calmly, although he expressed regret that he did not receive the death penalty by hanging or being dropped from a vessel alongside the body of the girl he loved and killed.

DRIVE AVIATOR TO HIS DEATH

Jeers of Crowd the Cause of a Tragedy In Kansas

Norton, Kan., Sept. 2.—At the Norton county fair, John J. Frisbie, a Curtiss aviator, was instantly killed when his machine dropped 100 feet to the ground.

Frisbie met with a mishap Thursday and went into the air again only when driven to do so by the taunts and jeers of the crowd. Frisbie fell about 100 feet and the engine of his machine came down on him, crushing his left side and chest. He lingered about an hour before he died.

Frisbie had been giving exhibitions at Elmwood park for several days. Thursday his machine acted badly and he had a fall of about 40 feet, but beyond bruises and a shaking up, was not injured. He was skeptical about the ability of his machine to stand another flight and announced he would not take the air again, but when this statement was communicated to the crowd there was an angry demonstration. The spectators hooted and shouted fakir and refused to listen to explanations. Then, rather than have the big crowd go away with the impression that he was not willing to do his best, he attempted a flight. He ascended from the track with difficulty and attained a height of 100 feet, but in attempting to make a turn the plane tipped and Frisbie lost control. Frisbie's wife, son and little girl were witnesses of the accident. Mrs. Frisbie being prostrated when she saw her husband fall.

DIVIDE A DOUBLE-HEADER

Cincinnati Takes First from Pirates but is Swamped In Second

Pittsburg Sept. 2.—Pittsburg and Cincinnati divided a double header, the Reds taking the first game by one run and the Pirates swamping the Rhinelanders in the second. Wagner played in the first game, but was not permitted in the second owing to his condition. He fanned three times. Singles by Bescher, Marsans and Mitchell, together with Wagner's bad throw in an effort to make a double play, gave the Reds two runs in the first inning of the first game. Bescher's safe bunt, Marsans' sacrifice, Bescher's steal of third, followed by Mitchell's single, gave them the winning run in the fifth. Pittsburg scored two runs in the seventh on two singles and two errors.

The second game was a slaughter, Pittsburg hammering Keefe and Humphries all over the lot. Score:

MANY DEPENDENT UPON RAILROADS

69,760 Persons Hold Stock In Pennsylvania Lines

An indication of the number of people dependent for the whole or a part of their incomes upon the prosperity of railroads is afforded by the compilation just completed of the holdings of Pennsylvania railroad stock on Aug. 5, 1911, the date of record for the August dividend, which amounts to $6,746,610.75. The total outstanding capital stock of the company on that date was $450,971,050, divided into 9,019,421 shares. These shares were held by 69,760 persons, the largest number of stockholders in the history of the company. The average holding of each of these persons was 129.29 shares, of a par value of $6,464.50.

The 10 per cent. stock allotment recently made by the company, increased the capital stock $38,357,850 to Aug. 5, 92 per cent. having availed of the privilege of paying in full instead of in two installments. The number of stockholders prior to April 12, when the allotment was made, was 66,016, showing an addition of 3711 share holders in the past four months.

The figures made public by the railroad company disclose the fact that on Aug. 1, 15.65 per cent. of the entire capital stock was held abroad by 10,000 shareholders, with average holdings of 141 shares each. In this country there were on the same date 21,515 shareholders located in the state of Pennsylvania, with average individual holdings of 108 shares. In New York there were 12,006 shareholders. The number of women share holders was 32,801.

When the total number of shareholders of Pennsylvania is added the many thousands of shareholders in other companies controlled and maintained by the Pennsylvania railroad, not to speak of the other thousands of bond holders in the parent and subsidiary companies, the intimate relationship of the earnings of this railroad to the lives of a very large number of people scattered all over the world, will be appreciated.

John Schaffer, 324 North Fifth St., Coshocton O., says: "I suffered from pains across my kidneys and my back was so lame that I could hardly move. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and broke my rest. At length Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a supply at Siegrist & Williams' drug store. After I had used the contents of two boxes I was greatly relieved and my kidneys became normal."

Mr. Schaffer gave the above testimonial in August, 1906, and when interviewed on May 8, 1909 said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint three years ago and my kidneys have bothered me very little since. I gladly recommend this excellent remedy."

THE MACCABEES AT LUNA

A Portrayal of the Ancient Order of Maccabees

Every lodgeman in town whether he be a member of the great order of the Knights or Ladies of the Maccabees or not, will find the picture at the cozy Luna theatre tonight of intense interest. It is the story of Judas Maccabeus and those valiant hosts of antiquity, from whom the Maccabees derive their name and their doctrinal organization. The picture is of intense realism and the various scenes are shown so vividly that it seems as though one had turned back the [illegible] pages two thousand years and was again living in the days when [illegible] old was young. The [illegible] extends a cordial invitation to all Knights and Ladies of the [illegible] and other lodgemen to attend the [illegible] this evening. Perfect order, comfortable seats, electric fans and magnificent films.

"A Fair Exchange" is the title of a pretty southwestern romance that will also be thrown on the screen.
